

Dan Holmes

The Elusive Landscape
Powerful and Emotional Landscape Photography.

Dan Holmes travels the world exploring, discovering, and telling stories with light. He is a top tier landscape and nature photographer, with national and international awards. Known for his emotional and evocative imagery, he takes great pleasure in teaching about photographing in the natural world. His photographic workshops cover creating powerful photographs, digital workflow, field workshops and photo adventure tours. He leads photo workshops in Alaska, Nepal, Namibia, the western US, and South America.

Dan is past President of the Channel Islands Professional Photographers Association, a Fellowship member of Professional Photographers of California, and has received his PPC California Master Photographer Degree. He is a PPC Certified Image Competition judge, and has spoken to and judged for a wide variety of photographic groups, including: PPC Expo, PPC Affiliates, local and regional Camera Clubs/Associations, County Fairs, Shooting the West, and the 2015 I am Photographer Festival in Estonia.

He specializes in Fine Art Nature, Events, Commercial, and Workshops. He has traveled extensively: climbing, trekking, and photographing in Europe, South America, Africa, Asia, and the USA. Dan's awards include PPC Nature, Landscape, & Photojournalist Photographer of the Year; Kodak Gallery Award; Black and White Spider International, Creative Asia and others. He has been published in Outdoor Photographer, ProPhoto West, Runner's World, Cycling News, and 805 Magazine. He is represented by Getty Images, and Premier Artists Collection.
